Ike, Khrushchev Talks Favored

U.S. Foreign Policy Heading to 'Summit'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is taking a direct hand in U. S. foreign policy discussions, raising them to a summit level whether or not the talks result in a summit conference. His exchange of visits with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and an earlier trip to Europe to confer with heads of the major Western Allies will give Eisenhower direct contacts with the participants in any later summit meeting.

A generally favorable reaction, both in this country and elsewhere in the world, greeted Monday's announcement that Khrushchev has accepted Eisenhower's invitation to visit the United States next month.

Many expressed hope that East-West tensions would be eased if Khrushchev were impressed first hand with the nation's strength and peaceful intentions.

Talks with Eisenhower and a 10-day tour of the country are among the plans for the Khrushchev visit. Reports from Moscow said the Soviet Premier is expected to bring along his wife, son and daughter.

With most details still uncertain, there has been no announcement whether Mrs. Eisenhower will accompany her husband to Europe.

The Khrushchev announcement overshadowed Eisenhower's plans for an earlier series of meetings with British, French, and West German heads of government. These could bear importantly on his talks with Khrushchev.

U. S. officials said details of the newly announced travels must be worked out. But they spoke in terms of Eisenhower's attending.

Fruit Growers Elect 3 New Directors

Three Salem area men, R. C. Lamb and John Kalafus of RD 5 and Richard Stiller of RD 3, were elected for three-year terms to the board of directors at the annual meeting of the Salem Fruit Growers Association Monday at Greenford High School.

Other board members are A. A. Less, Joe Less of RD 5, Raymond Knott, RD 3, George Wilms and Charles Mattevi of Salem and Frank Papania of New Waterford. Henry Ross of Salem, manager of the storage plant at Greenford, gave the yearly report. Joe Less read the report of the president, A. A. Less, and Leonard Hively of Columbiana gave the financial report for the year.

Retired Mahoning County Extension Agent J. C. Hedge of Canfield spoke briefly on the fruit growers association as did present Agent William Phillips and Columbiana County Agent Floyd Lower. There were 80 in attendance.

U.S. Vice President Will Speak At University

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon continues his triumphant, whirlwind visit to Communist-ruled Poland today with an official luncheon and a sightseeing tour of Warsaw. Today's itinerary included lunch with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz, a visit to a housing development, a three-hour drive through Warsaw's suburbs, and a talk with students at the University of Warsaw.

U. S. Ambassador Jacob D. Beam gives a reception for the visitors tonight, and they fly back to Washington Wednesday.

During another day of cheers from wildly enthusiastic Polish crowds, Nixon spent 5½ hours Monday discussing international issues and Polish-American problems with Communist party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka. He wound up his arduous day as guest of honor at a reception by President Aleksandr Zawaski.

Nixon was accompanied by Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the President, at his long talk with Gomulka. Three hours had been allotted for the visit, but the party chief had lunch brought to his office so the discussion could continue.

Also present were Premier Cyrankiewicz and Foreign Minister

Candidates In Last-Minute Filing Rush

Three candidates for the Wellsville Board of Education entered today for the Nov. 3 general election as a last-minute rush continued to swamp the County Election Board.

Although keeping the staff busy with new petitions, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said many more petitions are anticipated before the deadline Wednesday at 4 p. m.

An initiative ordinance seeking $40 monthly salary increases for members of the Salem police department also was certified to the board.

Butler Township trustees also certified a one-fifth mill levy for fire protection for two years.

A total of 132 candidates has entered for nonpartisan, township O'Hanlon said, but explained 249 village and school post seats, sought office in the 1957 general election for the same offices.

Wellsville's board candidates include Earl A. Bake, president, who has served many years on the board, and two newcomers, Richard S. Rowe and Charles W. Glass. Elizabeth C. Strabley became the first to file for the County Board of Education.

SAIDC Awaits Public Turnout At Today's Rally

Industry Campaign Meeting Is At 7 At Junior High

Tonight's the night that Salem residents show just how interested they are in the area's future. The Salem Area Industrial Development Corp. will have its back to the wall when the public rally at the Junior High school starts at 7 p. m. The group, which has been able to raise only about $40,000 of its primary goal of $75,000, will be going for broke. It is capitalized at $250,000. Public apathy, SAIDC officials

Public Can Gorge On Chicken After Rally

Persons attending the city's industrial development rally tonight at the Junior High School are in for a pleasant evening.

There'll be talks, music and plenty of food for all present. Caterer James Aldom will have 650 pounds of fried chicken to be served to the public at the conclusion of the meeting. That means 2,250 pieces of chicken—enough for second helpings. And it's all free!

Music will be provided by the Championship American Legion Quaker City Band.

say, will break the back of the organization's activities.

"If we don't get a good, responsive turnout at the meeting, we might just as well close up shop and forget about trying to attract new industries," one official said.

SAIDC's drive to sell its $100 a share stock is bogging down because the "man in the street" isn't backing it, officials explain. They are quick to point out to those people, they add, that an installment plan is available which would cut the price of the stock to about $2 a week.

"We can't afford to let this town die," those backing the group are saying.

They also are quick to point to the rapid expansion of industrial development groups across the country. Dozens of cities are jumping on the industrial development bandwagon and offering buildings, sites, tax rebates, free rent and dozens of other items in an attempt to attract profitable businesses to their communities.

Salem, they are saying, sits in the "American Ruhr." It is a rapidly growing area which will witness additional industrial, business and population growth in the next few decades. The St. Lawrence Seaway is going to offer Salem a wonderful opportunity to expand as more and more industries look toward the strategically located northeastern Ohio area, SAIDC officials say.

Those pushing the idea of industrial development promotion in Salem are crossing their fingers for tonight's meeting. Both the Ohio Edison Co. and the Pennsylvania Railroad have promised to assist the local group in its drive to attract new concerns to this area.

Visit May Make Red China Unhappy

Red Chief Takes Risk In Accepting U.S. Trip

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

AP Foreign News Analyst Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is taking a calculated risk in accepting an invitation to visit the United States.

His exchange of visits with President Eisenhower will permit an unusual calm to settle over the main arenas of the cold war for a couple of months. But there is no reason to suppose that peace has broken out.

Khrushchev has long indicated he badly wanted the invitation to America. He maneuvered industriously to get it. But why was he so eager?

Khrushchev's projected few days in Washington and President Eisenhower's in Moscow will be in effect a meeting at the summit, a two-sided meeting with other countries on the outside.

The Western Allies are being reassured and are making noises like they are welcoming the exchange. By the time Khrushchev gets through, they possibly will be wondering what really went on behind closed doors. The idea that Khrushchev is thinking along such lines cannot be discarded, for he is known to have entertained a notion of splitting the Allies by

USW, Industry Still Deadlocked

Joint Session Fails To Bring Agreement

NEW YORK (AP)—Industry and union chiefs—each side blaming the other for prolonging the three-week-old steel strike—have steeled up the pace of their negotiations.

The third joint session since the strike began was called for today. A joint session Monday failed to break the deadlock that has shut down almost 90 per cent of the country's steel production.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, is sitting in on the talks.

Asked if he had noticed any change in the attitude of either side as a result of criticism of both industry and union by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, Finnegan said: "I didn't discern any particular impact. Both sides are aware of the statement."

Monday's joint negotiations had been arranged by Finnegan before Mitchell accused both sides on Saturday of failing to make serious efforts to settle their contract dispute.

Finnegan said that an exchange of viewpoints Monday convinced both sides that another joint session today would be worthwhile.

One Gambling Stamp Purchased In County

CLEVELAND (AP)—The sale in Ohio of $50 federal tax stamps, which the law says horse race bookies and other gamblers were required to have when the new fiscal year started July 1, is falling far behind the pace set last year.

The Internal Revenue Service reports only 56 stamps have been sold in the Cleveland District, where most of the stamp sales are concentrated, compared with 144 last year.

Throughout the state only about half as many stamps have been sold as were issued for the fiscal year ended June 30.

In the Columbus District, 10 stamps have been sold for the current fiscal year compared with 25 last year. The story is the same in the Cincinnati District, where sales for this fiscal year total 19 compared with 56 the previous year.

The IRS reported the new list was not yet available in the Toledo District, which had 83 stamp-holders last fiscal year for the second largest number in the state.

About two-thirds of the stamp sales so far have been concentrated in the Ohio River counties of Jefferson and Belmont, with 13 each; the Lake Erie counties of Cuyahoga and Lorain, with nine and eight, respectively; and the Dayton-Springfield area with a total of 18.

Not a single applicant for a federal stamp was reported from Stark County, which currently has the heat on gambling operation. Last year 22 stamps were sold in the county.

Among those issued stamps by the Cleveland office are: BELMONT COUNTY Thomas F. Anania, Silver & Green Recreation, 317 Hanover St. Martins Ferry. The following names were registered at the address:

Anthony Chirpas, John W. Fields, John W. Fox Jr., William C. Fox, Steve Koutsoudis, Lester P. Long, Theresa Mangiapane, Frederick Sorg, John J. Snyder and John W. Fox.

Harvey Ferrall! Is Victim On Lower Elkton Rd

Custodian's Auto Hits Lisbon Man's Car Stopped on Road

Harvey L. Ferrall, 77, of the Upper Elkton Rd., RD 2, Columbiana, was dead on arrival at Salem City Hospital at 6:15 p. m. Monday after his car crashed into the rear of another auto on the Lower Elkton Rd., a mile south of Columbiana.

Highway Patrol investigators reported that the driver of the car which the Ferrall vehicle struck was stopped in the road preparing to back up. The driver, William E. Grate, 35, of 217 S. Lincoln Ave., Lisbon, had stopped after traveling past a place where he had wanted to turn off, the patrol said.

The accident occurred at 5:20 p. m., three miles north of State Route 517. The Highway Patrol is still investigating. No charges have been filed.

Dr. William A. Kolozsi, Columbiana County coroner, said Ferrall died instantly of a crushed chest and internal hemorrhages. He was alone in his car.

Grate was traveling with his wife and four children, all of whom escaped injury.

The accident brought the total number of deaths on Columbiana County roads this year to 17, compared to 11 at this time last year.

Funeral on Friday Born May 11, 1881 in Beaver Township, Ferrall was the son of Lodge and Lessie Sheely Ferrall. On June 16, 1949, he married Laura Frankford, who survives.

A resident of this area all of his life, he was employed as custodian of the Columbiana village dump for the past six years.

He was a member of the Church of Our Saviour in Salem.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Ruth Ann, and a son, Robert Lee at home.

Services will be held Friday at 1:30 p. m. at the Fry Funeral Home in Columbiana.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening.

Lightning Kills 2 Girl Scouts Near Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Lightning struck in the midst of a group of Girl Scout campers before dawn today, killing two and injuring two. Dead are Sally Parker, 14, of Cleveland Heights, and June Gamble, 13, of Medina, Pa.

Injured are Marilyn Featherstein, 13, of Walton Hills, and Lynn Wiesenerberger, 12, of Rocky River. The Featherstein girl was treated for knee burns and released from Medina Community Hospital. Miss Wiesenerberger was in good condition with stomach burns.

The four girls were camped side-by-side, two in each tent, at Camp Julia Crowell near West Richfield, in the northwest corner of Summit County. It is along Ohio 503.

Lightning struck a nearby tree and glanced into the two tents, causing fatalities.

One of the dead girls—officials refused to say which one—was standing in the doorway of her tent. Apparently she was awakened by the violent thunderstorm which struck shortly after 3 a. m. (EST). The lightning struck her in the forehead.

The other girls were asleep. Miss Ruth Kirkpatrick, in charge of the camp where 125 girls are staying, said counselors were awakened by a loud crack, probably when the lightning struck the tree.

They immediately checked the tents and found the two girls in one tent were dead and the two in another were injured.

Organization Is 10 Years Old

How Much of A Bulwark Is NATO?

Editor's Note: — As the North Atlantic Treaty Organization enters its second decade, just how much of a bulwark is it? Here is the first of four on-the-spot reports.

By BEM PRICE

PARIS (AP)—For 10 years now the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has been looked upon as the sword and shield of Europe.

NATO's defensive shield consists of ground troops with the task of stemming any Soviet attempt to overrun Europe quickly.

The sword is the retaliatory striking power of the West—nuclear or thermonuclear bombs delivered against the Soviet Union by manned aircraft or missiles.

U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, NATO's present military chief, once emphasized Europe's need for a strong defensive shield by observing that unless an aggression was soon halted, the Allies would be faced with the impossible task of separating the invaders from the invaded as targets for nuclear weapons.

At the moment, the shield appears thin and the sword, while still sharp, is losing some of its edge compared with the powerful and increasingly modern Communist forces arrayed against it.

A reporter's tour of NATO commands indicates that as matters now stand the Allies possibly could muster 250,000 men on the ground next to the Iron Curtain though not all would be mobile forces equipped with up-to-date arms.

The immediately available air cover for central Europe now consists of somewhere between 1,500 and 2,000 net aircraft of all types.

The Allies also have a classified but apparently limited, missile counter-punch, mostly in the short range category.

This Allied force confronts a Soviet bloc in central Europe which Western sources say has 1½ million men close to the borders of the free world and a 23,000-all-jet air force, most of which is concentrated in the western Soviet Union and the satellites.

In addition, the Soviets are said to be building large numbers of missile launching sites for their 700-mile range M103 missiles and their 1,500-mile T2 intermediate range missiles in the satellite areas west of the U.S.S.R.

Although written into existence April 4, 1949, as a military organization NATO really began Jan. 7, 1951, with the arrival of Dwight D. Eisenhower, then a five-star general, to assume command of Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe (SHAPE). The organization's assignment: to safeguard the freedom, common heritage and civilization of the signatory nations.

Upon his first inspection tour Eisenhower found only seven skinny divisions and an air force of about 400 planes, mostly piston-engine types.

Meanwhile, the technology of warfare was undergoing a steady evolution. The age of the guided missile and the battle-field rocket had arrived. Each can carry atomic warheads.

In the dawning age of atom-toting missiles and rockets, the need for armies to increase their mobility and dispersion likewise increased. The day of the foot soldier, fighting in mass, was ending.

The passing years, however, have seen some technical and logistical improvements in the military picture.

When NATO was born the aircraft detection radar operated 40 hours a week. Now the radar network scans the Iron Curtain around the clock. It still has a short range, reaching only to the Soviet border. But gaps in the network have been plugged.

Once it took SHAPE commanders eight hours to reach a subordinate command. Now a radio and telephone system provides immediate contact.

A spiderweb of supply dumps containing a 90-day stockpile of combat needs has come into being. About 2,000 miles of a projected 3,600 mile gas and oil pipeline now exists.

All these developments, however urgently needed, do not in themselves defend central Europe, which is the heart of NATO.

OHIO in the CIVIL WAR

Under an avalanche of charging Indians along the Little Big Horn river in far off Montana, ended the life of one of Ohio's most famous Generals, George A. Custer, 11 years after the close of the Civil War.

Today this monument marks the site of his birthplace in the hamlet of New Rumley in Harrison County.

In 1851 when there was a great need in the Union army for trained officers, Custer, then in his third year at West Point Military Academy, was commissioned a Lieutenant of Cavalry in time to serve in the first battle of Bull Run.

He rose rapidly in rank and at the end of that war was the young Major General in the Union forces and a division commander under that other Ohio cavalry leader, Gen. Philip H. Sheridan.

It has been said that during the Civil War, General Custer had 11 horses shot under him but he lived to serve for a decade on the Indian frontier in the West.

Drop of Blood Provides Much Information

By Dr. EDWIN P. JORDAN

H. E. asks for a discussion of blood count and writes, "How can this get to account for lightheadedness and dizziness?"

It is by no means safe to conclude that such symptoms are caused by a low blood count.

However, because a complete medical examination includes studies of the blood, it is not surprising that many readers are curious about what can be revealed by such studies.

In essence, studies of the blood can show up certain changes in the body which are helpful in making a diagnosis and in following the course of a disease and its treatment.

A large number of tests can be made on the blood, or portions of it. Among the most common are counting the numbers of red and white blood cells and testing the hemoglobin or coloring matter.

For these examinations only tiny amounts of blood are necessary. A drop from the finger or ear is sufficient. Sometimes, of course, larger quantities are taken from a vein so that additional tests may be made on the same sample.

There are about five million red cells in a measured small amount of blood called a cubic millimeter — less in women. About 7,000 white cells are contained in the same amount of blood. Both kinds of cells are counted under a microscope. If the red cells are below a normal figure, anemia is present.

Determining the kind of anemia and its severity also requires examination of the coloring matter of the hemoglobin. By putting the results of the examination of the red cells and of the hemoglobin together, and by staining a thin film of blood on a glass slide and looking at it under the microscope, doctors can tell what form of anemia is present.

The white cells are also important, both their numbers and other characteristics. There may be too few white cells. This is not a good sign if infection is present in the body.

Usually increased in infections and in some other conditions. The number of white cells present, for example, is helpful in making a di-agnosis of acute appendicitis.

There are many other things which the blood can show about the condition of the body. Special tests are available to determine whether germs are present in the blood and to find the amount of protein, calcium and other substances present.

Examination of the blood for sugar is, of course, important in diabetes. A blood test is the most reliable method for the diagnosis of syphilis.

These and other tests of the blood have helped enormously in present-day diagnosis and treatment. Technical improvements in many such laboratory studies have been made and new ones are under constant study.

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

They tell you the Mau Mau itself has been smashed. But special government units still search the Aberdare Mountains for 100 of the organization's toughest killers.

Only three weeks ago the colony's trackers brought in two of the old Mau Mau leaders. This pair joined some 750 others still in prison camps.

About 95 of them are in special detention for they are particularly hardened. Some day the governor will have to release them and so they will be the cadres for a new secret society, already believed launched.

There always have been secret societies among the 1½ million Kikuyus. Most of this vast tribe, however, are loyal and that's why the Mau Mau terrorists had to kill 10,000 fellow Africans to keep the rest in line.

There are many responsible settlers and government people who believe that the mass slaughter was ordered by a secret Communist cell. These same sources believe that a similar cell will reorganize the hard core into tough new units and order new terror the moment the Soviets think strategic for their moves down East Africa.

No one outside of the intelligence services can prove this. But I believe it. Tell you why. Here is a part of the Mau Mau story which has not yet been disclosed:

Back in 1929 there was something called the Kenya African Union. Most of its activities were secret. It had units stretching across Kenya. It strong-armed many a peaceful Kikuyu to raise money for its paid officials. Yet after a while the African Union obviously had more money than it could squeeze from the agricultural Kikuyus.

Sometime at the beginning of the big war, one of the union's officials, a 40-year-old Kikuyu called Jomo Kenyatta (an alias), took off for Moscow. There he "studied."

At war's end, when many Africans were shipped back to this continent by the Russians Jomo Kenyatta returned too. He shared a ship cabin with a comrade named Semakulu Mulumba, who went into nearby Uganda. Riots followed Mulumba's arrival in Uganda, carefully planned riots which ended when the British exiled him.

MEANWHILE, Kenyatta returned to the Kenya African unit. There he joined with Chege Kibichia, the big chief of the Kenya African Union. Shortly after that there suddenly was organized a band of strong-arm men inside the Kenya African Union called the "Forties." From this muscle outfit came the Mau Mau.

In 1947 Kenyatta also began organizing a Kenyaware labor organization. He operated on Communist tactical lines. Soon this labor base was turned into a tough cell-like network by Jomo Kenyatta, now the Mau Mau leader. It took him some three years to be ready to hit. He did. The killings started when responsible Kikuyu chiefs refused to permit their tribes to be sworn into the Mau Mau structure.

At the height of the terror, the Mau Maus had 16,000 killers, arsonists, knife artists and just plain troops in the forests. This was told to me by Michael Blundell, one of Kenya's great leaders who fought the Mau Mau.

There were three Mau Mau oaths. These have been described in fine fiction and news stories. But a special report to a British parliamentary investigation commission has never made the press. It describes the oaths as a process which can only be talked of as brainwashing—the typical Communist technique.

"A very clever man, a man knowing the psychology of his people, their superstitions, their fear of witchcraft, must have made the plan," the report said.

"The killing oath was the answer. It has been possible to transform the human being into a new frame of mind unknown and never met by me (the reporting psychologist) before. After having taken three or more oaths, the personality of the oathtaker changed. It is not insanity . . . but the person is not sane in the normal sense of the word . . ."

KENYATTA was finally caught and tried. His lawyers included a prominent pro-Soviet British barrister. After the trial, a witness by the name of Macharia pulled a Harvey Matusow. The witness called himself a liar and said he had given false testimony. It was this technique which Matusow used in the States to cripple much of our government's drive against the American Communists.

Kenyatta is 60 years old now and exiled to a rocky isolated area. But there are many here who believe the same forces are readying a new terrorist leader.

Electricity Usage Gains In E. Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — A total of 1,400,000 kilowatts of electricity were used during July at the Municipal light plant, according to Safety Service Director Albert Dishong.

This is the largest amount of electricity used during any July on record. The report shows an increase of 120,000 kilowatts over July of 1958.

Director Dishong attributes the increase to air conditioners and fans being used during the hot weather.

NO MISTAKE — That little "o" in "United States of America" on the tail side of the new penny doesn't make it a collector's item. Rumor has it that the coins will be recalled by the government and become very valuable because the "o" is the only one of 41 letters not capitalized. Actually, mint artist Frank Gaspario of Philadelphia used the small letter to break up the uniformity.

Columbiana Council to Let Paving Contract

It is expected to act at its meeting tonight on awarding a contract for surfacing and seal-coating of a number of local streets and alleys.

Bids were accepted up to noon Saturday and council tonight will select what it considers the best of several offers for a program that will include treatment of an estimated 26,770 square yards of traffic ways within the municipal boundaries. According to the terms of the advertisement for bids, the contractor must start work not later than Aug. 17, and must complete the program within six working days.

Also to be awarded, under a separate agreement, will be a contract on grading, surface treating and seal-coating of Quincy Ave., a project which property holders of the residential street asked from village council in a petition last month. Cost of the improvement will be borne by the property holders.

CONGREGATION OF the First Presbyterian Church has approved the purchase of two lots to the west of the present church property on E. Park Ave. Each lot is 60 by 190 feet. The lot just to the west of the church is vacant and the other is the site of the old Harold home.

Acquisition of the properties as a move toward future expansion was recommended by a committee headed by Harold Armstrong and the board of trustees of the church, which is headed by Albert Wakefield.

The church expects to use the home for a meeting place of Sunday School classes. Possession is expected in about two months.

A. C. FERGUSON will be host for a meeting of vegetable growers of Columbiana and Mahoning counties at his farm near here on Tuesday, Aug. 11. The program will begin at 7 p.m. and will include a tour of the Ferguson farm and the roadside market operated on Route 7. Guest speaker will be Ed Watkins, Mahoning County farm extension agent on marketing information for consumers.

WEEKEND GUESTS in the Walter Simpson home were Mr. and Mrs. H. Hayes and Mrs. Alex Downie and son of Youngstown, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Simpson of Hatboro, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weitz, Bay Village, O., Miss Mary Simpson, Beaver Falls, Pa., Mrs. Geo. Eckert, Columbus, O., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Todd and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. W. Kibler and sons of Columbiana.

Among those who attended the wedding Sunday of Miss Carol Puttkamer and Eldon Kops, in the Lutheran Church in Greenford were Mrs. Russell Barrow, Mrs. Ralph Luek, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hively, Mrs. Robert Bassler and son, Miss Peggy Hively and Beverly Bock.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roth, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ritchey, Mr. and Mrs. William Engberg and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Miller enjoyed a picnic on the Ohio River at East Liverpool Sunday.

Miss Bonnie Lou Linder of Salem is a guest this week in the Fred Roth home on Vine St.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vandegrift of Alliance were Sunday guests in the Emery Metz home.

About 30 relatives attended the Simpson family reunion Sunday in Firestone Park.

Miss Peggy Hively has returned after spending two weeks in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bassler of Fulton, Md. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Bassler and son, who will spend the week in the L. Hively home.

Mrs. Howard Harrell, formerly Miss Marion Thomas and a former teacher in the local school, attended the reunion Saturday of the class of 1934, held at Valley Golf Club.

Preston Attended Chicago Confab

Highway Director's Meeting Deepens Gloom for Roads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A mass meeting of state highway directors in Chicago Saturday did nothing but deepen the gloom of Ohio highway director Everett S. Preston over the future of federal highway aid.

The prospect of a sudden and sharp slash in federal aid has forced 24 states in addition to Ohio to suspend the letting of interstate roadbuilding contracts, Preston reported on his return to Columbus.

Preston said most highway directors expect wholesale bankruptcy among road contractors who have gone deeply in debt to buy the equipment they needed to gear themselves for a decade of heavy construction.

Bertram Tallamy, administrator of the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, warned the directors the final version of the federal highway aid bill now before Congress may be even more restrictive than in its present form.

The House - approved version provides only 600 million dollars nationwide for the interstate highway system in 1961, almost two billion less than the states had expected. The federal government has been putting up 90 per cent of the money for the interstate system.

The 600-million allocation would leave Ohio out in the cold for 1961, Preston said, because the state already has spent 40 million in anticipation of the 1961 grant. That 40 million would be approximately Ohio's share for the year, Preston explained.

The House-approved sum of 925 million for 50-50 matching with the states on primary and secondary roads and urban expressways also would mean a sharp cut for Ohio, the director asserted. The states had expected the nationwide total would be $1,625,000,000.

Impossible Men

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (A)—"Young men today are impossible," said Elaine Malbin, the tiny spitfire of opera. Miss Malbin has a problem.

She is young and pretty and as vibrantly alive as a violin string. She has smoldering eyes the color of autumn leaves.

She has one of the best lyric soprano voices in the land. She makes up to $75,000 a year.

But she has a problem. It is the same problem faced by millions of other career women her age—finding the right guy.

The public never thinks the feminine stars of the entertainment world have many dating woes. But they do. They have plenty.

The very gifts that make them famous turn out in a way to be a reverse curse. They scare away many men.

"That's part of my trouble," said Elaine ruefully. "Of course, it's partly my fault too. I'm afraid I can't be attracted to just an ordinary guy. I hesitate to date a man who isn't interesting. And to me the interesting men are those I feel are above me mentally, or who have achieved more."

She finds the current crop of American young men pretty dull company—even "impossible."

"Young men are too glib," she said. "They are glib about things they know nothing about—such as work. I have worked too long and too hard myself to care for glibness. I like older men because they appreciate you more, but the best ones are already taken."

Why not fall in love with someone in her own field? Miss Malbin shook her midnight mane vehemently.

"I don't find American male opera stars very sexy," she said flatly.

"I prefer businessmen and writers."

Brooklyn-born Miss Malbin started singing at 11, made her debut here at the age of 14. She wears sometimes of the exacting discipline of opera, particularly since she said it is financially far less rewarding than television or the supper club circuit. She still practices three hours every day.

"But the hardest thing to me is that I have to live in accord with the demands of my vocal art," she said. "It means I can't talk as much as I want to; smoke at all; or stay up late at night."

"I've worked very hard and long. I've worked and watched the world go by. Now I feel I want to see more of the world—and watch the work go by."

"I never regret what I've done, and I don't want to live to regret what I have not done. I'm very stormy, and I guess I like stormy people who are tremendous workers."

She paused, brooding. Asked if there was anything else she wanted to say, the little girl with the big fine voice smiled and said: "Help!"

Dollars Devalued for Investors Too

As had been expected ever since it became plain that the steel industry would be forced through another prolonged strike by a deadlock in wage contract negotiations, U.S. Steel's record-profit statement has set off a howl of indignation.

It is strange, though, that the howl is being cheered by many of the same people who argue that the all-time high wages of hourly paid workers in the steel industry have been discounted by dollar devaluation.

The same dollars in which earnings and dividend payments are measured are used to pay wages. A shareholder who gets a bigger figure on his check is just as aware of how much more he needs at the supermarket as the wage earner.

The comptrollers who tell management how much it will need to replace obsolete machinery and to build new plants are fully as conscious of dollar devaluation as the steelworker's wife who needs a new vacuum cleaner or wants to buy an extra chair for the living room.

There is only one way to tell what real earnings and real wages are. That is to measure them in dollars of the same value that dollars had in the past. Unless this is done—and it rarely is—all money totals in 1959 must be discounted as much as half to get an idea of their value for comparative purposes. In fact, all statistics that purport to show giant strides being made in national product, company earnings and personal payments are phony to the extent they do not use constant-value dollars.

This is the argument the steel companies are using for an end to dollar devaluation—inflation, as they call it. Perhaps if it were called by its right name—dollar devaluation—it would be easier to understand how it devalues all dollars, not just the dollars in your own pocket.

Or is this one of the things no one wants to talk about because it shatters the great illusion that inflation can be ridden like a spirited horse—on and on and on? Eventually, the people whose savings are wiped out and whose living standards keep deteriorating run out of hay for the horse and the joy-ride is over.

Vote Getter Vs. Tax Collector

Vote getters in Congress have prevailed over the tax collectors again. A majority of the House Ways and Means Committee would rather issue a billion dollars' worth of federal bonds to build roads than collect enough additional taxes on automobile users to keep federal highway aid on a cash basis.

If you are a motorist who squawks against paying his own way — if you are a citizen who likes to make progress on the cuff but not on the barrelhead — you are lined up with the vote getters. Neither you nor they can face reality. It's easier to put the cost on the cuff than the cash on the barrelhead.

The Eisenhower administration, which invented the multi-billion-dollar federal highway program, started out with the idea of putting the cost on the cuff and was converted to the sounder idea of making motorists pay as they drove. This was a significant switch from the federal government's bad habit of going into debt for anything and everything — a habit that now costs taxpayers more than eight billion dollars a year in interest, for which they get nothing.

Nevertheless, this year when it became clear that another increase of a cent and a half in gas taxes and increases in other excise taxes against auto users would be needed to keep the federal program on a cash basis, vote-getting carried the day in the House Ways and Means Committee against tax-collecting.

Not only did the committee balk at the pay-as-you-go principle, but it shied away from its commitment to keep faith with the cooperating states by following through on schedule. If the decision is sustained, the federal highway program will turn into another mish-mash of political wrong-headedness.

If you are one of many who give aid and comfort to public officials who would rather go into debt than pay cash, lest voters get sore about paying the price of progress, the Ways and Means Committee majority voted in your favor.

But if you are one of a growing number who would rather pay cash and get a dollar's worth of progress for every dollar invested, you owe it to your congressman and your senators to ask for a pay-as-you-go federal highway program.

Government Involved In Steel

There could be no less realistic argument than whether or not the government should become involved in steel contract negotiations.

Aside from the fact the government is dependent on steel for military hardware and revenue-producing steel production, it is further involved at this particular time because of its own anti-inflation policy.

It has been reminded of this in blunt terms by the heads of at least two major companies, who have declared they have no intention of raising prices unless they are forced to raise them by government-dictated settlements which would raise production costs.

In other words, they are fighting the Eisenhower administration's anti-inflation battle for it when they refuse to settle for another round of wage inflation. But if the administration abandons a key position in the battle by helping United Steelworkers win its demand for increases that could not be justified by improvements in production, the steel industry would not fight the battle alone.

Against this background of anti-inflation policy, it is impossible for the Eisenhower administration to be neutral. Instead of being on the fence of neutrality, it is firmly committed to preserving the buying power of dollars by refusing to devalue them any more than they already have been cheapened.

Moreover, this could very well be the last chance to make any headway against inflation. If the basic steel industry must be dictated to by inflationists—if it has lost the power of self-determination—no other industry can be expected to resist inflation.

Stabilization of the value of money will have been made impossible by the relentless pressure of competitive nationwide bargaining for ever-higher totals on pay checks. Wage rates that now stand better than $3 an hour will be puffed up year after year until they reach, perhaps, $30 an hour.

A "low-priced" automobile then would cost $30,000. A house would cost 10 times as much, too—and everything else to match. People who depended on savings to see them through their declining years would be wiped out entirely. There would be only one way to get ahead and that would be to inflate wages still further, from $30 an hour to $300 an hour.

The government cannot say it has no intention of letting itself be involved in the steel negotiations. It is involved up to its own neck, its own confiscatory taxes and its own runaway costs for all the things it buys.

The fellow who writes on his cuff things to remember always has something up his sleeve.

Lots of oil stock investors would have been better off to let wells enough alone.

In the line of phrenology, a large lump on a man's head may indicate that he's argumentative at home.

Once Over

Inflation can cost the average American his shirt. But he's so stupid he thinks he is covered by federal shirt and pants insurance. He is an odd bird who thinks he is ahead if he gets twice what his old man got and spends three times as much to make both ends meet.

You can break a dozen eggs, separate yolks from whites and prove that this doesn't produce a dozen omelettes but his answer will be, "Who cares? I ordered wheat cakes and sausage."

He can yawn at a headline, "U.S. Faces Economic Crisis" and put on a hi-fi recording during a broadcast that federal debt is at a new high. He can phone for a dance lesson during a radio announcement that Uncle Sam has just given 100 trillion dollars to the Bulgarians to help straighten out THEIR MONEY PROBLEM!!!

TELL HIM that $10 minus $6 equals $4 and he replies, "Not if I have a credit card." Point out that if he gets $75 a week and the groceries come to $80, his reaction will be, "It doesn't bother me so long as I do my worrying by auto and have 14 more payments to go."

He has heard about inflation in other nations during which a man or woman had to take a wheelbarrow load of money to the market for a cinnamon bun but he says, "That was due to boll weevils, climate and a shortage of aspirin pills. The guy mistakes a dead end street sign for E Pluribus Unum and thinks "mathematics" is a Chinese word meaning "Turn in your old car. The ashtray is rusty."

He is looking for trouble. And he is getting his order in early.

Why Did Ike Run In '52?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Why did President Eisenhower decide to seek the presidency in 1952? One main reason was to beat President Truman whose re-election, he felt, would be bad for the country. As it turned out, Truman didn't run.

This piece of American history and all that follows—except for background material in parentheses—can be stated on high authority as an accurate presentation of some of Eisenhower's views.

Besides his feelings about Truman's administration, Eisenhower had been persuaded to run because he had certain ideas with respect to the relationship between the federal government and the states. He is still not happy about that relationship.

Two of Eisenhower's chief political advisers—while he was still commander of the NATO forces in Europe—were New York's Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.).

They told him Truman would try for a second full term and that only he, Eisenhower, could beat him. And he had become persuaded that re-election of Truman would not be good.

But by the time it became apparent Truman would not run again, Eisenhower felt his own political career was well launched and there was no way to withdraw.

(Eisenhower seemed pretty well up to his neck in politics at the beginning of the 1952 presidential year.

(On Jan. 7, while Truman was still undecided about running, Eisenhower not only disclosed he was a Republican but indicated he would try for the presidency if he received a "clearcut call to political duty." This meant if the Republican convention the following summer chose him.

In that same month, while he was still at NATO, he said: "Under no circumstances will I ask relief from this assignment in order to seek nomination."

(But Lodge had entered him in the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary, which he won March 18, beating Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio). In the same state's Democratic primary Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) beat Truman.

(Eleven days after being beaten in New Hampshire, Truman announced he would not run again. Four days after that, on April 2, Eisenhower asked to be relieved of his NATO command by June 1. He came back then and campaigned for the nomination.)

What about Eisenhower's reasons for seeking a second term in 1956?

He felt there were certain objectives related to his philosophy of government — the relationship between government and the individual—which he wanted to see carried out.

He was fearful the Democrats would nominate and elect a candidate who represented an opposite philosophy and he had been told that only he could be assured of winning in 1956.

Looking back on his decision to run for a second term, it can be said he is glad none of several other people got the presidency. (This writer does not know what people he has in mind.)

But Eisenhower feels deeply disappointed by the difficulty and failure to work out any significant redress of balance of federal and state functions which he tried to initiate at a conference of governors.

He found that the governors they will expect to keep on getting, even if it means they have to turn ugly and smash the big, sweet, happy illusion that good will can be built with flavored chicle and sweetened chocolate.

Farm Bill Buried

By ROBERT E. LEE

Eisenhower Plans Appeal For Change In Law

Congressional Democrats have now abandoned hope for writing any major new farm legislation before the 1960 elections.

And, although President Eisenhower is planning a national appeal for a change in the basic law which experts in both parties agree isn't working well, Republicans are darkly pessimistic about the chances of doing anything about it.

Democrats with farm belt constituencies are prepared to go to the electorate next year with a campaign blaming Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson for failing the farmers. Republicans will claim that previous Democratic administrations bequeathed them an unworkable program to administer.

However, there is some question whether agriculture will be a major issue in 1960. The political heat from the farm belt for higher price supports has been almost dissipated. Meanwhile, big city Democrats, on the spot for years, now almost openly disavow the federal subsidies in the form of rigid price supports promised by their campaign platforms of 1952 and 1956. They feel the heat from consumers demanding lower food prices regardless of the farmers' well-being.

THIS WASN'T the way Democratic farm spokesmen had it figured when Congress convened in January. They thought their party's big majorities in the House and Senate gave them a mandate — and an opportunity — to do something about Benson's drive to reduce price supports on basic crops and give the farmers more freedom to plant as they please but with lower guaranteed prices.

The Senate Agriculture Committee was to provide the stage for the Democratic overhaul of the price support program. Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas worked out the strategy with two committee members, Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Herman Talmadge of Georgia.

Humphrey and Talmadge were to compromise the often conflicting views of producers of various crops and of the major agricultural lobbies. The heart of their plan was revival of what was known in the Truman administration as the Brannan Plan, embodying strict production controls with direct payments to farmers to equalize the difference between the parity formula value of particular crops and their market value.

The two senators, meeting with technical specialists throughout February, "traded" commodities to be included in the program until almost everything grown was included: wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco, peanuts, dairy products, hogs, eggs, feed grains. At this point the negotiations broke down. The Humphrey-Talmadge plan is now dead for all practical purposes.

Humphrey, however, as a candidate for the presidential nomination and longtime champion of federal aid for small farmers, has drafted his own version of the sweeping proposal and may introduce it soon.

WHAT HAPPENED to the Democrats' winter enthusiasm?

For one thing, Talmadge said both he and Humphrey would be laughed out of the Senate if they offered the hedge-podge that was emerging from their conversations.

For another, the wide divergence of views held by various — and often competing — commodity groups gave little evidence of support from anything like a cohesive "farm bloc." Many of the farmers' best friends in Congress say the farmers themselves don't know what they want.

Moreover, Congressional Democrats were struck down early in the session in the first test of their strength to ram through agricultural legislation. This occurred on a purely political effort to strip Benson of some of his authority over the Rural Electrification Administration.

This move, sponsored by Humphrey, was regarded as the least controversial within the party of any legislation bearing on farm problems. Virtually all commodity groups backed it; those that didn't stayed in the background.

The bill passed both houses with large majorities but the President vetoed it. The Senate overrode the veto but it was sustained in the House. This was the indicator for the more realistic Democratic farm spokesmen in Congress. They knew they were licked.

The prevailing view among the Democrats now is to ride with what they call the "Eisenhower-Benson" Program, taking pot shot at it along the way to November, 1960. They reason that even if it were possible to put across a wholly new Democratic farm program, it would reap no political benefits. On the contrary, it would fix responsibility for any further farm failures on them.

They are satisfied now to live with a "Republican" farm program which is extremely costly and an administrative monstrosity; indeed they prefer it to a program of their own which might not work either.

Nixon's Test of Poland

By JAY G. HAYDEN

In historical retrospect the most fateful circumstance in Vice President Nixon's current tour may be the belated Soviet refusal of his request to fly home by way of Siberia and the new state of Alaska.

It was Moscow's veto of this route which was given as the excuse for the surprise visit by the Nixon party to Poland for two days, beginning Aug. 3. Nixon will be the first American official of such high rank ever to visit a Russian satellite.

A visit to Poland by the vice president of the United States under any condition would be greatly important and in this case there are the elements of surprise and casualness which are sure to intensify Polish popular interest.

THE EVENT is usually significant in two other ways.

First, Khrushchev violently attacked Nixon because of U.S. official observance of "Captive Nations Week." As one of the Captives, Poland's reaction will be watched with interest.

Second, it was officially revealed at Bonn, after the Nixon trip to Poland was announced, that the West German Cabinet is considering the possibility of signing nonaggression pacts both with Poland and Czechoslovakia. For West Germany such an agreement presumably would include toleration of existing boundaries with those two Communist nations, at least to the extent of renouncing war as a means of reclaiming lands lost to them in World War II.

The German pronouncement clearly supplies Nixon with an important talking point. For some time past the United States has been urging the Bonn government to extend its trade relations with Poland and otherwise seek to appease the fear of German reprisals which is a continuing Polish preoccupation. But Nixon scarcely would have dared to raise that subject in Warsaw except for the tip that West Germany itself is now considering it.

For two years the United States has been giving help to Poland in the form of surplus farm products and some other minor items but it has been greatly restrained in that regard by the Polish antipathy to Germany

POLAND REMAINS a "captive" in the respect that Russian troops will camp on its soil and is entirely surrounded by Communist lands.

Since the near rebellion of October, 1956, Russia has been much more respectful of Polish viewpoints. It is wholly unlikely for example, that any other of the Communist Satellite nations of Europe would dare invite the American vice president for a visit as Poland has done.

Under the government of Wladyslaw Gomulka, since 1956, police terrorism in Poland has all but disappeared. One of Gomulka's first acts was to release from prison the Catholic primate, Cardinal Wyszynski. Restored to his religious office, Wyszynski quickly won relatively free operation of churches of his faith. Religion in Poland still is under duress but it remains open and operating.

As was re-emphasized during Khrushchev's visit to Poland, there is little left of collectivized agriculture, which was the vogue before Gomulka took over and there has been a steady trend back toward private management and, in less degree, private ownership of industry.

SOCIALLY and intellectually, the Poles Exercise a great amount of individual freedom. Poles cannot buy non-Communist publications from other countries on their newspapers but they can subscribe to them, with a fair chance that they will escape seizure by the censors. Even if seized, these outside publications somehow find their way into secondhand bookshops where anybody can buy them who has the price.

Very recently it was announced that President Eisenhower's war reminiscences, "Crusade in Europe," was published in Poland and is enjoying a large sale.

It will be interesting to compare the treatment of Nixon by the Polish population with Khrushchev's reportedly rather cool reception of him only a few days earlier.

Mrs. George Raub

COLUMBIANA — Mrs. Lavina S. Raub, 87, of S. Main St. Ext., died at 5:40 p.m. Monday at Salem City Hospital, following a two-week illness.

Born at West Newton, Pa., May 24, 1872, she was the daughter of Benjamin and Jeannette Neff Budd.

Her first husband, Cyrus P. Hough, died Feb. 9, 1919. She later married George Raub who died Aug. 12, 1928.

a Western Big Three summit meeting in Paris, plus talking separately with the British and French chiefs and with Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Eisenhower was expected to go to Paris in the latter part of August. Khrushchev is due here in September, perhaps around mid-month. No date has been fixed for Eisenhower's own later visit to the Soviet Union.

From the standpoint of diplomatic troubleshooting, Eisenhower's trip to Western Europe shaped up as a picnic compared with the tough task of dealing with the Russians on East-West issues. Eisenhower will be returning to the area where he served many years as an international military commander. The Allies, despite some differences, see eye to eye on most problems.

The largest exception in this harmony scene is the towering Charles de Gaulle, whose ideas about France's destiny have caused concern in the Western camp.

De Gaulle has demanded a voice for France in the use of atomic weapons, has withdrawn the French Mediterranean Fleet from NATO combat command, and has embarked on a controversial campaign to quell the Algerian insurrection.

Eisenhower has not met with De Gaulle since he took office. Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Adenauer both have been to Washington this year. But the nationalistic Frenchman has brushed aside invitations to visit.

The European journey gives Eisenhower a chance to talk with De Gaulle without obviously going out of his way to do so.

Washington authorities waded into the many details that remain to be ironed out on the Khrushchev visit.

The broad agreement for the exchange was handled in such secrecy and on such a high level that most State Department officials below the rank of under-secretary seemed unaware of it until Monday's announcement.

U.N. diplomats expect Khrushchev will address the General Assembly in New York. He could do that without an invitation, as a member of the Soviet delegation.

$77,750 Traffic Suit Is Filed At Lisbon

LISBON — Suits asking total damages of $77,750 were filed in common pleas court Monday as the aftermath of a traffic accident March 18.

John Shaffer of Lisbon RD 5, asks $51,450, and Louis Barronzi of Sunset Drive asks $26,300 in two suits naming C. F. Waite Inc., of Akron, as defendant in both suits.

Barronzi who operates a gas station in Lisbon had taken gasoline to Shaffer who had run out of gas. Both cars were parked along the west side of Route 45 headed south when a truck belonging to the Akron company, driven by Charles Davis, struck the rear of Barronzi car, pushing it into the Shaffer car and injuring both drivers.

Ex-Patrolman's Case Continued by Judge

LISBON — At a preliminary hearing Monday afternoon, the case of William G. Ritchie, former Salem policeman, against the City of Salem for reinstatement and a back pay, was continued to give Ritchie and his attorney a chance to amend their original petition.

City Solicitor James Primm had asked the court that the petition be dismissed for technical error, but Judge Joel H. Sharp allowed the plaintiff to amend the original petition.

The case is not expected to be heard before the September term of court.

Browns Trade Catlin To Chicago Cardinals

CLEVELAND (AP) — Linebacker Tom Catlin was traded to the Chicago Cardinals today for a draft choice, the Cleveland Browns announced.

The 215-pound Catlin, who played center at Oklahoma, was obtained by the Browns in a 1953 trade with the Baltimore Colts.

Catlin, 27, played two seasons with Cleveland and went into military service. Part of the time he served as an assistant coach at West Point.

He returned to the Browns in 1957.

age of salaries and operating costs. The amount of state aid was not available at time of the meeting. The hospital would then pay the board the remainder of the money which had been expended in the nursing school's operation.

Due to its present financial condition the board can undertake this project only if the hospital will grant it an advance on the operation for the first year, it was explained.

Mr. Cameron is to meet with the hospital board later this week and approach them on the advance. He will report back to the board at its next meeting.

Board $107,736 in Red
Business manager Darrell M. Fadel pointed out that the general fund is now $107,736 in the red, and there is little relief in sight for the rest of the year.

Fadel and several board members met with County auditor Kenneth Bell earlier this week and were told that the only thing that could expect would be $50,000 from personal property taxes for the second half of the year.

Fadel said this won't come in until November and that even then it won't be much relief. He added that with the money from the State Foundation program which is due shortly and the real estate tax distributions from the county the board will be able to meet bills on a month-to-month basis, but must spend money only for absolute necessities.

The business manager said the shortage developed because the board receives its funds from taxes and the State Foundation program on a quarterly, rather than a monthly basis. Increased costs and lags in tax collections aggravated the situation, he explained.

Two Teachers Hired
Following a discussion of the availability of teachers and the salary schedule of the local school system, the board voted to hire two teachers for the coming school year.

Hired were: James Gow, 897 Barclay St., a 1958 graduate of Kent State University, presently in the armed service; and Miss Barbara Earley of East Cleveland, a 1959 graduate of Wheaton College in Wheaton, Ill.

The board voted to accept the resignation of Mrs. Carol Kelley Kerr from the teaching staff.

The superintendent pointed out that the board still has not filled all the vacancies in the system. The two most important ones left to be filled are an art and a math instructor at the Senior High School.

Immunization Required
The board adopted the new state law requiring all students to be immunized against polio, smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus.

Under the new state law the pupil must be vaccinated against them before initial entry into the school system. Parents, however, may present written objections for consideration.

The board took action designating the First National Bank as its depository for the period Aug. 23, 1959 to Aug. 23, 1961.

Possible methods of repairing the entrance into the parking lot at the new Senior High School were discussed by the board.

The board voted to award high school diplomas to the following students who completed requirements for graduation during summer school. They are: Larry Feaster, Vernon Long, Ralph Mohr and Robert Watson.

Nixon

Adam Rapacki, author of a Soviet-supported plan for an atomic-free zone in central Europe which the United States has opposed.

Nixon said later the talk had ranged over international matters as well as Polish-American problems.

The length of the talk forced Nixon to cancel a visit to the remnant of Warsaw's Jewish ghetto, where about 500 persons waited patiently to get a look at the vice president.

At the president's reception, Nixon won applause from Polish officials and foreign diplomats with a toast to peace.

Speaking in the great hall of the palace of Poland's cabinet, the vice president recalled that President Eisenhower had seen the war destruction in Poland 14 years ago and that Nixon himself had seen Warsaw's reconstruction.

Nixon referred to his talks with Polish leaders during the day.

"There was complete agreement on this one issue: what happened to Warsaw, what happened to Poland in the last war, to Poland that suffered in two wars, must not happen again either to Poland or any other country on earth," he declared.

DiSalle Urges Federal Highway Aid Continue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle believes the nation's governors should urge Congress to continue the federal aid highway program at the current level of spending for the time being.

He cabled that thought Monday to Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida, chairman of the Governors' Conference now in session in Puerto Rico.

"It should be impressed upon Congress," DiSalle told Collins, "that the need for continuing the program at or near past levels is more urgent now than was the need for originating the program."

DiSalle noted that failure by Congress to provide for continuation of the highway program has already caused 25 states, including Ohio, to indefinitely suspend award of all highway contracts involving federal aid.

Casting Tryouts For Players Club Production Set

Casting tryouts for the Salem Players' next production will be held at the YWCA Sunday from 2 to 4:30 p.m. and Monday and Tuesday from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The play, to be directed by Mrs. Robert Agap, is John Patrick's newest comedy, "Lo and Behold." The cast requires five men and three women.

Rehearsals will begin Aug. 13 with the play opening for a three-night run Sept. 17.

Male types required include: The central character, in his 60's, a philosopher who has been impatient all his life with dullness, incompetence and stupidity; a young lawyer who looks and acts more like a college flunk; romantic lead is a doctor — tall, personable, with an intelligent and witty approach to problems and patients.

A pleasantly intense and acerbic composer who must be able to play the piano, and a good-looking bookie who has a very "sick" mother and very slow horses.

Female types include: The leading lady, who is a determined and struggling, attractive young model; a Southern belle who is a cute flirt and definitely a chatterbox; and a tall, bedraggled Indian girl.

State to Demand Death In Georgia Trial for Rape

LAGRANGE, Ga. (AP) — The state will demand the death penalty for three Negroes accused of raping two white women last Saturday. Solicitor General Wright Lipford said Monday.

The trio will go on trial next Monday.

A grand jury, which included one Negro, returned two indictments in the case Monday. The first charges Clifford Johnson, 32, Brannon Epps, 24, and George Alford Jr., 18, with raping one of the women. The other indictment charges Epps and Alford with raping the other victim.

Johnson and Epps are Lagrange laborers. Alford is a former soldier of Dayton, Ohio.

Police said the three Negroes had raped the women after first scaring them away from their escorts and finally snatching them from three would-be Negro protectors.

Defendant Held For Jury In Car Theft

LISBON — Eugene Hunter, 24, of Jacksonville, Fla., was bound over to the September grand jury by Mayor John Todd Monday night on a charge of auto larceny. He pleaded "not guilty" and bond was set at $5,000.

Hunter was apprehended Sunday evening by Stark county authorities on the request of Lisbon police and was found wearing a pair of shoes taken from the car stolen Saturday from Leland Biggins of Thomas Road. Hunter is confined to the county jail in lieu of bond.

Labor Bill Is Headed for Floor Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — A wide-open floor battle over labor control legislation was indicated today as the House Rules Committee called hearings to determine procedure.

Without working over the legislation itself, the committee decides on debate limits, the extent of amendments to be allowed, and ground rules which play a big part in shaping House action on bills.

Before it was a bill approved 16-14 by the House Labor Committee but opposed by many who want it changed on the House floor.

The committee consequently was expected to send the bill to the floor wide-open to amendment to satisfy members who contend it is too weak and needs strengthening and others who say it is too tough and needs toning down.

The Rules Committee, under pressure to get the bill before the House this week, suspended hearings on other legislation to give it priority.

As it came from the Labor Committee, the measure eased many restrictions of the Senate-passed bill but followed that bill's general pattern.

It would ban "hot cargo" clauses in union contracts and extortion picketing. A modified labor "bill of rights" is included, but without the criminal penalties the Senate voted for violations. The bill would require unions to make extensive financial reports and would require the National Labor Relations Board to take jurisdiction in all labor dispute cases. The board may now decline jurisdiction in small cases, and the states are prohibited from acting.

Its strongest and most influential backing came Monday from Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.), who declared: "I think it does a splendid job." Rayburn said the Labor Committee bill "covers racketeering in a fine fashion."

Committee Seeks Donors to Give Blood on Aug. 14

A committee of volunteers has begun making telephone calls to Salem residents to ask for donations of blood at the Red Cross bloodmobile which will be in Salem Aug. 14 at the Steelworkers Union Building, 547 Prospect St., from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. James Gregg, committee chairman says that the women callers will attempt to get 180 promises of one-pint donations.

"The blood collection program calls for 125 pints quota," explains Mrs. Gregg, "but experience has taught us that in order to be assured of our quota, we must have a somewhat larger number of promises. It generally develops that a small percentage of persons willing to offer blood are physically unable to do so."

When the bloodmobile was here in June only 109 pints were donated. In April, this year, 143 pints were given by Salem area residents.

Telephone callers include Mrs. George Ehrhart, Mrs. Richard Co-burn, Mrs. Russell Wagner, Mrs. Marcus Rice, Mrs. Joseph Ross, Mrs. Jerry Smith, Mrs. Richard Wilson, Mrs. George McConner, Mrs. Marshall Sutherin, Mrs. Gordon Scullion, Mrs. Clarence Schmid, Mrs. Robert Middeker, Mrs. Milford Landwert, Mrs. Fred Koenreich, Mrs. Calvin Filler, Mrs. Oliver Davis, Mrs. Harvey Bates, Mrs. Lester Bateman, Mrs. James Schaeffer, Mrs. Charter Merrill, Mrs. Victor Zerbs.

July's Weather Was Just Average, Observer Reports

Weatherwise, last month was just about average, according to a study of the July records for the past 66 years, Edwin Copeland of Millport, U. S. weather observer, said today.

The monthly temperature of 70.8 degrees was three-tenths degree higher than average but below last year's July average of 71 degrees. Rainfall during July was 4.69 inches. It was far below the 1958 July rainfall of 12.39 inches but still a little above the 66-year average for the month.

Thu far this year, 28.05 inches of rain has fallen in the district. This is still above the first seven months average of 21.14 inches.

County residents had almost average sunshine last month as the five cloudy, 12 part-cloudy and 14 clear days measured out at 64 per cent sunshine. Normally, we have 65 per cent sunshine during July.

Farm combining, after a good work week, has been delayed the past two weeks because of rain and high humidity, Copeland said. He added there is a record corn crop in the making and that local gardens are showing signs of producing excellent crops.

HOW "PUBLIC POWER" ADDS TO YOUR TAX BURDEN

One of the most unnecessary government spending programs you could imagine is adding to your tax load every year. It's the multi-billion-dollar spending for federal "public power."

About $5,500,000,000 from you and other taxpayers has already gone for federal government electric power systems. And $10,000,000,000 more is being proposed.

Yet it's unnecessary to go on spending more of your tax money to put the federal government farther into the electric business. Independent electric companies like yours are ready and able to supply all the electricity people will need—without depending on your taxes.

Then why does this needless tax spending continue? Only because most people don't know about it. So spread the word among your friends and neighbors. As soon as enough people realize how "public power" adds to their tax burden, they'll put a stop to it.

WHEN "PUBLIC POWER" WINS—YOU LOSE! Every time another federal "public power" proposal goes through Congress, you are taxed to pay the bill.

SAIDC Wins Class AA Title by Blanking Stepanics 6 to 0

Herman Allows Only One Hit

Beloit and Shaffers Post Softball Wins

By DICK BRAUTIGAM
SAIDC's Bill Herman is leaving little doubt as to who is the top pitcher in the Salem softball leagues.

The hard-throwing righthander last night followed up his no-hitter of last Friday against Demings with a one-hit whitewash job on Stepanics. The 6 to 0 win wrapped up the Class AA title for the SAIDC.

Until its loss last night, Stepanics had a mathematical chance of tying for the top spot. Now they must fight it out with Beloit, Shaffer Ford and Farmers Bank for one of the three remaining playoff slots.

Beloit and Shaffers kept their hopes alive for the playoff bids with wins last night. Shaffers edged Beloit 4-3 and Beloit trimmed Demings 9-8.

Pridon Hits Homer

SAIDC made the best of only five hits off Glenn Mercer in toppling Stepanics. Ken Schoeni singled, Jerry Weizenacker was hit by a pitch and Dick Wyss doubled them both home in the second inning. In the third Mercer walked Sam Pridon before Schoeni unloaded a home run over the left field fence.

Powerful SAIDC got back to back homers from Bob Stallsmith and Pridon in the fifth to wind up the scoring.

Herman fanned eight and walked only one in chucking his one-hitter. McNeely was the only man to touch him for a bingle.

Bruce Feicht wasn't at his best on the mound but collected three hits to help Shaffers to its win over Sebring. However, it was Jack Brudley who got the big blow in the game.

With the score knotted at three-all in the sixth, Brudley poked out a triple and came across with the winning run on a sacrifice fly.

The Demings-Beloit affair was no pitchers battle. Beloit knocked around a pair of Demings hurlers for 12 hits while the Pumpers displayed some hitting power of their own with 10 hits.

Jim Weizenacker hit safely three times to lead the Beloit onslaught. Four Demings sluggers collected two hits apiece. Nello Arsuffi accounted for the game's only homer, a two-run blow in the fourth.

Drills Open For Schoolboy All Star Tilt

Opening drills for 50 of Ohio's top schoolboy gridgers got underway today at Canton's Fawcett Stadium, site of the Annual North-South football classic Aug. 15.

Members of the Ohio High School Football Coaches Association selected the top 25-man squads, Salem's Lou Slaby was named as an alternate to the North team but no position on the regular roster opened up.

Alliance's talented quarterback, Walt Zing and Warren's Dave Tutich and Joe Peretti are slated to see action for the North.

Joe Clark, former Jackson-Milton mentor, will be one of the coaches for the North. Clark is now at Cincinnati Indian Hills.

Several of the country's top college coaches will be in Canton next week to participate in the coaching clinic, held annually in conjunction with the North - South game.

They include Trevor Rees of Kent State, Phil Dickens of Indiana University, Woody Hayes of Ohio State, Ara Parseghian of Northwestern, Paul Dietzel of national champion Louisiana State, and Tom Harp of the United States Military Academy at West Point.

Tickets for the All Star game are on sale at Fisher's News Agency. Game director Jim Robinson of Canton McKinley said the tickets sent to Salem are choice reserved seats.

Demings Tops Bliss 5 to 1

Other Action Marks Hot Stove Contests

Demings took sole possession of second place in Class E of the Hot Stove League by virtue of a 5-1 victory over league leading Bliss Monday at Centennial Park.

Salem Stamping, Class F runners up, pasted a 5-0 whitewash job on Sekelys while Eljer was thumping Team M in the other Class F tilt. In Class G Scott's Sports won by forfeit over the Italian Club. Home Furniture buried Merchants Vending 12-2 in the only Class H contest.

Pitcher Joe Kozar limited Bliss to two hits in Demings' upset victory over the team that has already clinched the division title. John Panzotte collected two singles and a double to out hit the entire Bliss team.

Stamping, one of Salem's two entries in the state finals, scored five times in the fifth inning against Sekelys. These were the only runs for either team in the entire game. Keeler hurled a three-hitter for the winners and helped his own cause with a home run. Wilt of Sekelys also hurled an outstanding game but was handicapped because his team was able to field only eight players.

Eljer managed seven runs on just one hit in its victory over Team M. Three errors and a host of walks pushed across runs in each of the first four innings.

Rick Royal unloaded a home run for Home Furniture as 10 different players scored at least one run for the victors. Scott Cody gave up only five hits to record the victory. Gary Walker was charged with the loss for Merchants Vending.

Walker Gets 5-3 Victory

American League Wins Second All-Star Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The count stood all square at one apiece for the 1959 All-Star classics between the American and National League today. And back to the formal pennant races went the ballplayers.

Manager Casey Stengel's American Leaguers pinned a 5-3 defeat on Fred Haney's Nationals as a paid attendance of 54,982, fourth highest in the game's history, sat through the game in sun-baked Memorial Coliseum Monday.

The victory avenged a 5-4 setback absorbed by the Stengel men in the first All-Star game July 7 at Pittsburgh.

Individual honors went to catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees whose two-run blast off Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale put the Americans in front, 3-1, in the third inning for a lead they never relinquished.

Oddly enough, this was Yogi's 11th All-Star appearance but the first time he had hit for extra bases.

Collective honors went to the American League pitchers who throttled such sluggers as Hank Aaron, Ernie Banks, and Willie Mays.

The winning pitcher was Jerry Walker of Baltimore, 20, who just a year ago was laboring for Knoxville, Tenn. in the Class A Sally League.

Walker, inserted into the squad the afternoon before, yielded but one run and two hits in the three innings he worked.

The loser was strikeout artist Don Drysdale of the Dodgers. Don served up home runs to Frank Malzone of the Red Sox and Willie Mays.

"This was a great day for the Italians," said Yogi, referring to the homerun by Rocky Colavito of Cleveland in the eighth inning and Malzone's four bagger.

Sharing pitching honors with Walker were Early Wynn, Hoyt Wilhelm, Billy O'Dell and Cal McLish.

For the Nationals, Dodger Jim Gilliam and Frank Robinson of Cincinnati smacked homeruns.

The contest, which lasted 2 hours and 42 minutes, had its moments.

One came with the introduction of the All-Stars. It was hard to say which, if either, drew the biggest hand — big Ted Williams or Stan Musial.

Of course, such Los Angeles idols as Gilliam, Wally Moon, Drysdale and Charlie Neal drew hearty applause. But Williams, in his 16th All-Star game, and Musial in his record 17th, were the sentimental heroes.

Malzone's homer came in the second inning, which tied the score at 1-1 after Johnny Temple had doubled in the first and scored later on Aaron's sacrifice fly.

In the third, Nellie Fox singled and scored on Berra's homer. From there on it was a homer duel, with the Americans leading the way.

McCormack is lost To Browns 6 weeks

HIRAM, Ohio (AP) — Mike McCormack, offensive tackle and captain of the Cleveland Browns, must undergo an operation on the knee he injured a week ago. He will be sidelined for six to eight weeks.

"This is a real blow to us," said Coach Paul Brown. "We're hoping for a quick recovery."

"We'll keep Mike on the regular roster so that he can play as soon as he is ready."

McCormack, injured when he twisted his right knee during a line scrimmage, is expected to miss the entire exhibition season and may not be ready for the opening of the regular season.

He will undergo surgery today or Wednesday.

Fight Results
By The Associated Press
Oakland, Calif. — Ward Yee, 117, Pasadena, outpointed Dommy Ursua, 118, Philippines, 10.

Baltimore with 48 to go would have to scoot at a 36-12 pace to top Chicago. Kansas City with 52 to go would have to play 38-14 ball. New York with 52 to play would need a 39-13 record and Detroit in 48 games would need a 38-10 record to beat Chicago's .500 pace.

A catch-up rally by any of those clubs would mean playing better than .700 ball the rest of the way. Only two of them (Baltimore and Kansas City) have managed to hit the .500 level.

DEAL JOINS REDS
CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds have swapped pitching coach Clyde King for Cotton Deal, who resigned as manager of Rochester of the International League. They take over each other's jobs.

The Reds announced the change Sunday night. Deal resigned Saturday night.

King, after his National League pitching days, managed minor league clubs at Columbus, Ohio; Hollywood and Atlanta.

A Reds' spokesman said Deal once worked in the St. Louis organization with the present Cincinnati manager, Fred Hutchinson.

Detroit — was captured temporarily by the British in the War of 1812.

Perry to Open Against Nats

Tribe Three Points Behind White Sox

WASHINGTON (AP) — Do you think the Cleveland Indians are happy about opening a four-game series tonight with the last-place Washington Senators?

Guess again. The reason: Washington has lost 16 in a row and every schoolboy has heard about the law of averages.

Before Washington lost its 16th, Cleveland Manager Joe Gordon said no team could possibly lose that many. Now he's changed his tune.

"We'll help Washington set a new record. We'll extend their losing streak to 20."

That's the modern record for successive losses. The Indians will open tonight with Jim Perry (6-3) on the mound against the Senators' Bill Fischer (8-6).

The Indians trail the first-place Chicago White Sox by three games and by four in the important "loss" column. Chicago has a 62-40 mark, while the Tribe is 60-40.

Gordon also may unveil his new lineup changes tonight. If he does, hot-hitting Tito Francona will shift from center field to first base and Woodie Held will take over in center. Vic Power will go from first to third base. George Strickland will be at shortstop and Billy Martin at second base.

Russ Nion, with three hits in the second game Sunday, showed signs of breaking out of his season-long slump (.173 batting average) and will be behind the plate handling Perry.

SURVEY IS PLANNED
CINCINNATI (AP) — Surgery to cut out a lung lesion is planned today for Frank McCormick, a Cincinnati Reds' all-time great first baseman.

McCormick, 46, entered Christ Hospital for tests last week after a routine chest X-ray at Crosley Field showed a suspicious spot.

A Redleg for eight years, he batted over .300 for five of those years and was a leading light on the pennant-winning crew of 1940. He also led National League first basemen in fielding four straight years.

For the last two seasons he has been a television baseball broadcaster here. Before that, he was a Cincinnati coach for two years.

Lt. Col. Hancock Leads Pistol Match

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—An Army lieutenant colonel puts his one-point lead on the firing line today in the final round of the National Pistol Championship when the 1,800 shooters will use a .45-caliber weapon.

Topping the field of competitors is William Hancock, of Columbus, Ga., with a score of 1,742 points out of a possible 1,800. He fired an 873 out of a possible 900 Monday with the .38-caliber pistol to go with his 863 with the .22-caliber the previous day.

The first round leader, John Hurst, a Los Angeles policeman, is one point back of Hancock with 1,741, followed by Army Sgt. Huelet Benner, of West Point, N.Y., a five-time champion, who has 1,740.

In the women's division, Marine Lt. Sally Carroll, of Spokane, Wash., tops the field with 1,623 points.

McCormack, 46, entered Christ Hospital for tests last week after a routine chest X-ray at Crosley Field showed a suspicious spot.

A Redleg for eight years, he batted over .300 for five of those years and was a leading light on the pennant-winning crew of 1940. He also led National League first basemen in fielding four straight years.

For the last two seasons he has been a television baseball broadcaster here. Before that, he was a Cincinnati coach for two years.

DiSalle May Veto Half-Dozen Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — As many as a half-dozen vetoes of bills passed by the Legislature may be forthcoming from the desk of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The governor indicated as much Monday in reporting to newsmen that he had signed 15 more bills during the day, leaving about 100 for study.

Among the bills he signed were measures to:

Create a new state Department of Personnel.

Increase workmen's compensation benefits.

Post school foundation subsidies.

Permit state retirement systems and the Workmen's Compensation Fund to invest in advance purchase of highway right of way.

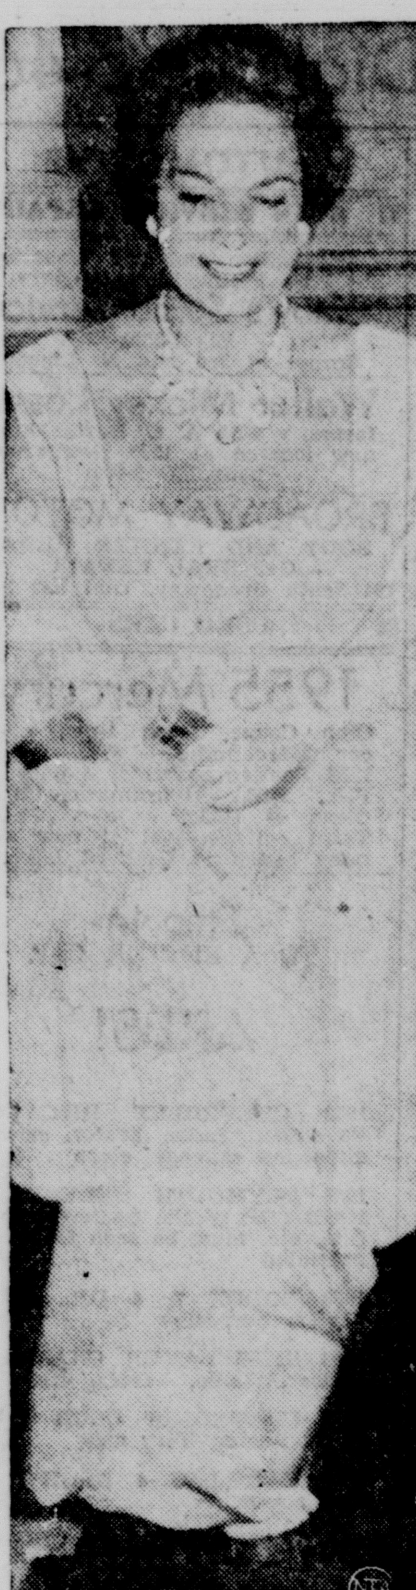

Create a seven-member Ohio Water Commission.

Permit smelt fishing by any experimental device.

Allow candidates of each party to be lined up on voting machines.

CRASH BLOCK PARTY

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sixteen policemen, their pistols drawn, broke up a political block party given by Councilman Suzy Gallagher on East 86th St. Monday night after two patrolmen were pelted with a pop bottle and a paving brick. Six persons were arrested, including five teenagers. Officers said they asked the crowd of 500 to disperse after a permit for blocking the street could not be found. As they removed the barricades, the missiles flew.

FIRST NIGHTER — One of the bright lights of international society, the Begum Aga Khan, arrives in formal elegance at the opening of the annual Bayreuth (Germany) Wagner Festival. She's the widow of the Aga Khan III.

3 Children Killed In Fire In Idaho

NAMPA, Idaho (AP) — Fire swept through a wooden playhouse here Monday and killed three small children before a neighbor could rescue them.

The victims were Mary, 4, Mark, 5, and Kathy Bryant, 6, children of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Bryant.

"I kicked in the front door, but it was too late," said Willard Bradbury, a fireman who lives next door and discovered the fire. The four-foot high playhouse was located in a corner of the family's yard. There was no immediate explanation of how the fire began.

The children's parents were at work, and a babysitter was tending three other Bryant children in the house.

Boys Sentenced For Killing of Two Dogs

VAN WERT, Ohio (AP) — He and a friend tied two dogs to railroad tracks and waited for a train to come, 14-year-old Danny Clem admitted in Juvenile Court.

Danny related that he waited behind some boxcars while his 17-year-old companion watched the train run over and kill the helpless canines.

And Danny, of nearby Dixon, appeared unremorseful as he told about it, said Judge Cathryn Harrington, as she announced disposition of the case Monday.

The judge sentenced the boy to seven years in Ohio's Boys Industrial School, with recommendation that he not be released before serving the maximum sentence.

The case of the older boy is being handled by a court in adjacent Paulding County.

The incident happened July 21 just over the nearby Indiana state line.

Cleveland Workman Gets Penicillin, Dies

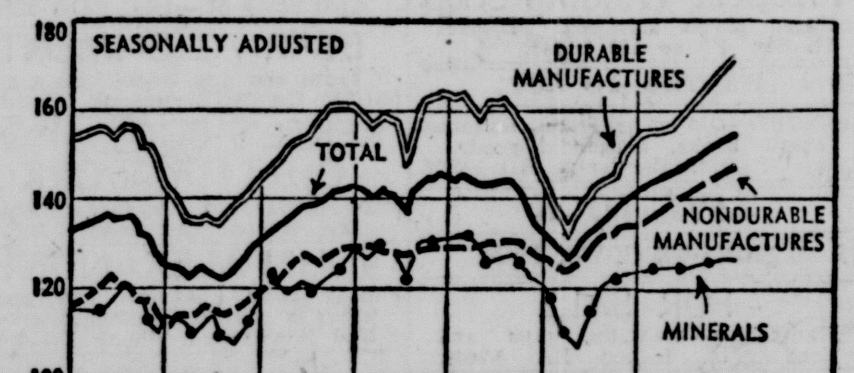

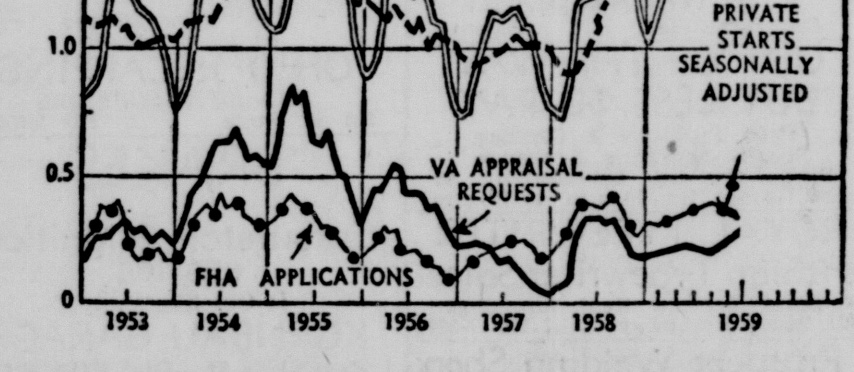

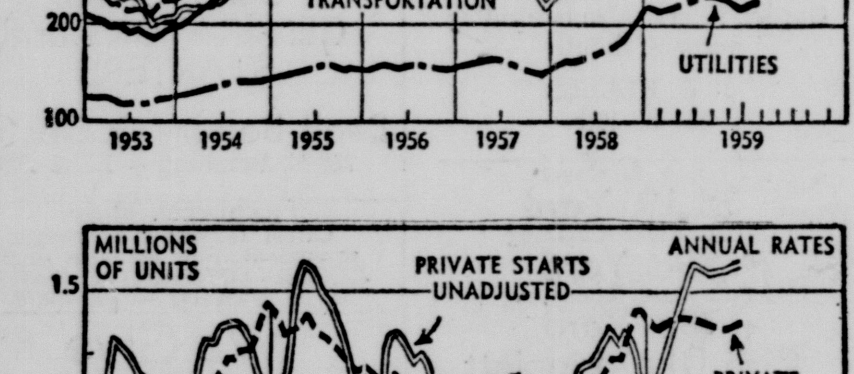

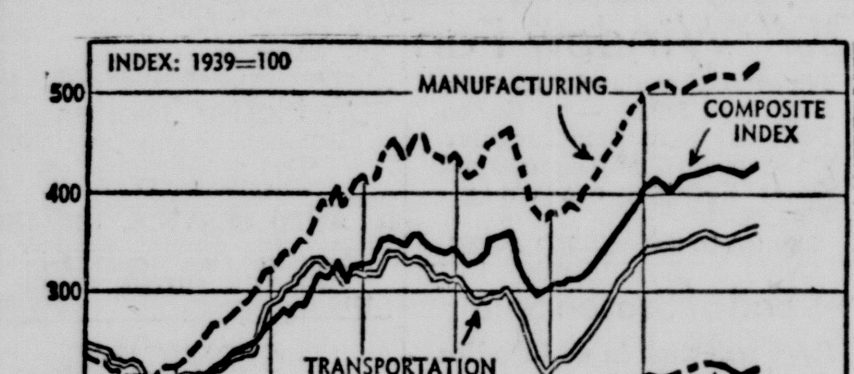

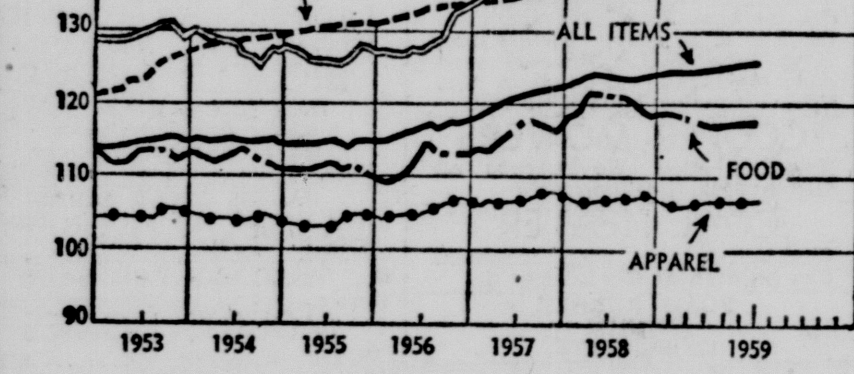

CLEVELAND (AP) — It is estimated unofficially that only one person in 200,000 shows a severe reaction to penicillin. But a 45-year-old Cleveland workman suffered such a severe reaction Monday that he died only 30 minutes after receiving an injection.

The victim was James Ellington, an older employed by Hotel Cleveland. He was sent home from work because of a higher fever, 104 degrees.

He went to his doctor who asked if Ellington was allergic to penicillin. The doctor was told the patient was not, his nurse reported. A few minutes after the injection, the patient collapsed.

The doctor then administered an antidote for the shock reaction.

Thus Far In 1959 ---

Record of the nation's economy—as shown by manufacturers, all businesses, housing and prices—for the past several years and up to the eve of the current steel strike are shown on charts above. Of particular interest is the rapid comeback in all fields since the recession days of 1957-1958. Charts were prepared for Congress by the Council of Economic Advisors.

DiSalle, Group Meet On Junior Colleges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle will meet Wednesday with a group of prominent educators to discuss legislation authorizing creation of two-year junior colleges.

The governor said the state would be obligated to pay half the cost of building the colleges and one-third the cost of operating them. But he said no money is available for that purpose now.

Asked to attend the meeting were State Rep. Michael A. Sweeney (D-Cuyahoga), sponsor of the college bill; Dr. John Baker, president of Ohio University and chairman of the Governor's Commission on Education Beyond the High School; Dr. John Millett, president of Miami (Ohio) University; Dr. Terry Wickham, president of Heidelberg College and head of the Ohio College Assn.; Dr. E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction; and Ralph Besse, executive secretary of Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. and chairman of the Cleveland Commission on Higher Education.

LEETONIA

Mrs. Elizabeth Andler, 90,
To Mark Birthday Thursday

LEETONIA — The 90th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Elizabeth Andler of RD 1, Leetonia, will be celebrated Thursday with a family gathering at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sauerwein, with whom she resides.

Mrs. Andler, formerly operated the Columbia Hotel here for 50 years.

Her son, W. R. Andler and his wife of Raynham, Mass., will also be present, together with three grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Andler, who has resided in this area all of her life, and her husband, the late William Andler, formerly operated the Columbia Hotel here for 50 years.

Mrs. Andler enjoys fairly good health, and spends most of her time watching television. One of her favorite pastimes is visiting with friends.

The Try Try Again 4-H Club held its regular meeting recently with 19 members present and answered the roll by giving health hints for a "Happy Vacation."

Miss Brenda Wilhelm reported on the float committee meeting. The club moved to donate to the County Junior Leader project on making county road signs.

The Priscilla Club of St. Paul's Lutheran Church has canceled its Aug. 6 meeting. The annual coverdish picnic meeting will be held Aug. 20 at the home of Mrs. L. S. Webster. Husbands will be guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce Briggs have returned from a two weeks vacation in Canada.

Mrs. Sylvia Clunen received word Saturday that her son, S.A. Robert J. Clunen had arrived in Boston, Mass., and is now serving aboard the USS Aucilla. He

Mrs. Carmen Salvino and children of Philadelphia are visiting her mother, Mrs. John White. Mrs. Salvino was the former Reta White.

Mr. and Mrs. George Varian and son Emmet of East Liverpool visited his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Varian and family last week.

The Rebekah Lodge will sponsor a card party Saturday evening.

Springfield Judge
Sentences Driver
That Killed Officer

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—A Municipal Court judge today slapped every penalty he could impose on a motorist whose traffic violations resulted in a police chase in which a patrolman was killed.

Judge Richard T. Cole told James L. Redmon, 32:

"You are as bad a criminal as I've ever seen in this court, either as a judge or as a prosecutor. . . a true criminal in every sense of the word."

A police cruiser was chasing Remon July 25 when it collided with another car at an intersection. Patrolman Leroy Warren, 41, was killed and another policeman was injured.

Judge Cole fined Redmon $1,250 and costs, sentenced him to 18 months in jail and suspended his driving rights for seven years.

Redmon was charged with reckless driving, drunken driving, driving while his license was under suspension and failure to stop at the scene of an accident.

In addition, the judge ruled Redmon must pay $600 and serve out a 73-day sentence imposed last year on charges he was driving while his license was under suspension and failure to stop at the scene of an accident. Redmon had received probation on the 1958 charges.

Police records show Redmon had been arrested 49 times previously.

11 Men, 2 Women Join
Armed Forces In July

Eleven men and two women from the area enlisted in the Army during July, according to Sgt. Enuel Bosley, local recruiter.

The new enlistees are now at training centers receiving eight weeks of basic instruction before going on to specialized training. The men are training at Fort Jackson, S.C., while the women are at Fort McClellan, Ala.

Those enlisting for three years included Billy M. Hines of Alliance, formerly of 257 W. 8th St., Salem; Marie M. Kutz of RD 1, Hanoverton; James L. Stewart of Washingtonville; and Michael F. Hirschman of Lisbon.

Others were Raymond E. Gibson and John E. Sutherland of East Palestine, Jerry M. Burke and Gary W. Johnson of East Liverpool and Eleanor Porter, Robert K. Hargreaves and Dominic T. Pucci of Wellsville.

The Y-shaped bridge in Zanesville, Ohio, spans two rivers, the Licking and the Muskingum. Other "Y" bridges cross the Appomattox River at Petersburg, Va., and James River at Eagle Rock, Va.

ON THE WAY — Poet Carl Sandburg, 81, and his brother-in-law, photographer Edward Steichen, 80, talk together before leaving New York's Idlewild Airport on a flight to Moscow. The octogenarians will be in the Russian capital for the showing of Steichen's photo essay, "The Family of Man," at the U.S. exhibit.

Grandmother, Girls
Capture Burglar

HILLSBORO, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff Walter Reffitt disclosed today how a grandmother and two teenage girls captured a daytime burglar at a farm home near here.

Reffitt identified the man as Gerald Forney, 34, of Louisville, Ky., a parole violator. Forney is being held here for Kentucky authorities.

The sheriff said Mrs. Laverne Pulse; her granddaughter, Ann Pulse, 17, and Diane Shaffer, 16, found the unarmed Forney hiding in some bushes at Mrs. Pulse's home this weekend. Using a hammer and long piece of metal as weapons, Mrs. Pulse and the Shaffer girl forced the man to lie quietly on the ground while the Pulse girl called officers.

Reffitt said Forney admitted breaking into the Pulse home and stealing a suit of clothes.

3 Buildings Destroyed
By Fire In Toledo

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Damage estimated at $200,000 was caused by a fire Monday that destroyed three buildings in East Toledo leased by the Andersons, a grain elevator firm.

Fire Chief Arnold Papenhagen, who estimated the damage, said the fire apparently originated from sparks caused by friction when a conveyor belt slipped from its rollers as grain was being unloaded from a railroad car.

More than 100 firemen fought the blaze for two hours before bringing it under control. No one was hurt, but several firemen narrowly escaped injury when a brick wall collapsed.

Later, Thomas Anderson, one of the owners of the elevator, and two firemen required oxygen after being overcome by smoke and fumes while surveying the damage.

Approximately 125,000 bushels of wheat and several thousands of bushels of corn were stored in the three buildings destroyed. The flames also consumed four grain-laden railroad box cars on a siding near the elevator buildings.

3 Persons Die In
Crash Near Jackson

JACKSON, Ohio (AP)—Two cars collided head-on near here Monday night and killed three men and a woman, the Highway Patrol reported.

Patrolmen identified the victims as Raymond E. Tomlin, 25, and Randall M. Bright, 32, both of Detroit, Mich.; Donnie R. Shuler, 24, of Dayton, and Nina M. Schmidt, 31, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Only survivor of the crash was Leo E. Hall, 41, of Columbus, who was reported in critical condition in Holzer Hospital, Gallipolis.

Patrolmen said a car driven by Tomlin, with Bright and Shuler as passengers, collided with an auto operated by Miss Schmidt on two-lane U.S. 35 about six miles southeast of here. Hall was in the Schmidt car.

AHEAD OF SCHEDULE

DENVER (AP)—Cleveland McCarty, 26, a Denver dental student at Washington University in St. Louis, is four days ahead of schedule in his attempt to scale all 54 of Colorado's 14,000-foot peaks in as many days.

He has climbed 31 of the peaks in 27 days.

SHATTENFIELD NAMED

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The new assistant U. S. attorney for the Southern District of Ohio is Thomas S. Schattenfield, 32, who worked for the Justice Department in Washington, D. C., the last four years. Schattenfield, formerly employed by the Cleveland Press and as a radio-television sports writer, takes over the post left vacant by Loren G. Windom, now State Adjutant General.

Ohio Fuels Gas
Secretary Named
BUC Administrator

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Donald B. Leach, assistant secretary of Ohio Fuel Gas Co. here, will become administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation Aug. 15.

The 44-year-old Columbus executive was appointed to the post Monday by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. Leach will succeed James R. Tichenor who continued as administrator when his term expired last February until the post could be filled.

The governor said that Tichenor, who became administrator in 1956, had been helpful during the recent legislative session, but that "sooner or later you have to get someone new in the picture."

Tichenor is a Republican. Leach, like DiSalle, is a Democrat.

"I wanted someone I knew personally," DiSalle said of Leach's appointment.

Leach, a native of Wellston and the father of four children, worked in the Office of Price Stabilization here while DiSalle was federal price controller during the Truman Administration.

Appointed to a four-year term, Leach will draw $14,000 a year.

Stamp Honors Work of Soil Conservationists

The Columbiana Soil Conservation District is one of more than 2,800 such districts throughout the country being honored by issuance of a commemorative soil conservation stamp by the Post Office Department, according to John Hull of Lisbon, supervisor.

The four-cent stamp will be issued Aug. 26, at Rapid City, S.C., at the annual meeting of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

The district is governed by a board consisting of Hull, Richard Dunn of Hanoverton, Edgar Haynam of Minerva, Wilbur Hays of Salineville, Russell Beight of Wellsville.

Technical assistance is provided by the soil conservation service group with Herman L. Reuter, work unit conservationist in charge; Earl W. Cope, Carl K. Miller, conservation aides, Heber D. Lessig and William F. Hale, soil scientists.
